

YES YOU CAN
CHATCOLAB 2009
JUNE 13-19

ALL LAB SESSION WITH JANA KEMP

Discover the gems in your own community and how they can draw attention, time and stewardship, as well as being able to create economic development. By understanding our cultural, geologic, historic, and people resources we can better communicate places and activities of interest to a wider circle of visitors, friends, students, teachers and supporters. Plus, by gaining an understanding of the world around us, we learn more about ourselves and our abilities to lead, volunteer, and steward our landscapes and resources.

Jana Kemp entered elected public service for the first time in 2004 after being elected to the Idaho House of Representatives in District 16, which includes all of Garden City and parts of Northwest Boise. Her focal points were Transportation, Education, and Responsible Budgeting. She served one two-year term. In her non-elected work, Jana is a small business owner. Jana founded Meeting & Management Essentials in 1993 in Minnesota and moved the company to Idaho in 1994. The company focuses on improving meeting, time, and decision-management skills for individuals and organizations.

Named one of Idaho's Accomplished under 40 (years of age) business owners in 2001 and the Better Business Bureau's 1999 Integrity Counts small business award winner, Jana has worked to bring the power of productivity, morale and profit to day-to-day business meetings and activities since 1986.
